

Plagiarism

Your Work Must be Your Own!

Plagiarism is “the practice of taking someone else’s work or ideas and passing them off as one’s own” (<https://languages.oup.com/google-dictionary-en/>).

Plagiarism at Newman is considered a form of THEFT!

All students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of personal honesty and integrity in their work as expected from Newman Catholic College students. Committing any form of plagiarism is an act of misconduct as well as disrespectful to the Catholic values that underpin Newman Catholic College ethos. Plagiarism undermines a trusting educational relationship with your teachers and fellow students and affects a students’ personal and academic growth. Plagiarism may also lead to copyright infringement in some cases, all student assessments must be original and respect the intellectual contributions of others through correct referencing, this includes written and digitally recorded work.

Assessment tasks are set to assess and report on students’ abilities across a range of areas. It is therefore essential that the work a student submits has been created by them.

You are plagiarising when you do any of the following, even if unintentionally.

- handing in someone else’s work (parent, friend, tutor) as your own, even work you have collaborated with someone else on and not acknowledged their input.
- allowing someone else to copy your work and hand it in.
- paraphrasing material from another source without proper acknowledgement or citation.
- using plots, characters, concepts, and ideas from other sources like novels, TV shows and films and present them as original work without properly referencing them.
- piecing together different sections of the work of others into one assignment such as ‘cutting and pasting’ information off the internet.
- failing to indicate with quotation marks that you copied another person’s exact written words or symbols, and you fail to provide a bibliography for the assessment (see referencing section).
- Failing to name a person whose exact words you use in an oral report.
- purchasing or paying for an assignment from someone else such as a professional assignment writer and hand it in as your original work.

Generative AI

Students caught making submissions using Generative AI (including but not limited to ChatGPT) have been deemed to have violated this policy and will face consequences below.

If a student has been caught plagiarising, the following consequences may be implemented:

- Handwritten rewrite of the entire assessment

May God bless you with a heart fired by love willing to do Him some definite service

- Loss of marks
- Equivalent alternative assessment
- Suspension
- Additional assessment or coursework focused on academic integrity
- Any other consequences deemed reasonable by the College's Senior Leadership team.

Version Control

Developed By:	Principal
Content Owner:	Newman Catholic College
Approved By:	Leadership Team
Approved Date:	10/10/2021
Position Description / Replacing:	Name of previous policy N/A
Effective Date:
Dates Reviewed:	19/11/2024

May God bless you with a heart fired by love willing to do Him some definite service